

LOUISVILLE JOURNAL
THIRD EDITION, MORNIN' EDITION, A. & G. CO.
P. RENTICE, HENDERSON & OSBORNE, PROPRIETORS.
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE, $1.00 ADVANCE, OR $1.00 PER MONTH. As it paid in advance, or at the end of the month, the cost of the paper is $1.00.
CLAD IN GOLD—ADVANTAGE.—$1.00
IN WEEKLY JOURNAL.—$1.00
Each copy, 10c. Extra copy, 15c.
* * * * *
FOR full particulars as to terms of party advertising, see our first column on first page.

Order for Job Work received at this office.

LOUISVILLE.

FRIDAY, OCT. 29, 1858.

We have been rather surprised at the unusual and ill-tempered comments of the New Albany papers of Wednesday upon our remarks of the preceding day relative to Horace Bell and his adhesion to the cause of the South. We know well what we do to do impartial justice and to ally mischievous and dangerous passives, and hence their petulant responses are exceedingly disconcerting.

The Leader speaks out "calculated to inflame the ignorant and excite the animosity of the people of Indiana," while the editor of the Tribune sees at them as being of a "milk and water" character.

The latter editor sees dimensions in the case which we are not prepared to admit, and further adds that he is not able to speak so openly to our friends who are with us. He can tolerate no appeal to common sense and a spirit of moderation. If however our articles were "milk and water," we do not understand how they could be so described. They are strong, and seem to indicate and excite animosity among the people of Indiana.

We should suppose that such "milk and water" could inflame the editors and their popular friends, if that were even possible, and that they have been taken by most of the unwholesome controversy as he is on the other. He can tolerate no appeal to common sense and a spirit of moderation. If however our articles were "milk and water," we do not understand how they could be so described. They are strong, and seem to indicate and excite animosity among the people of Indiana.

We should suppose that such "milk and water" could inflame the editors and their popular friends, if that were even possible, and that they have been taken by most of the unwholesome controversy as he is on the other. He can tolerate no appeal to common sense and a spirit of moderation. If however our articles were "milk and water," we do not understand how they could be so described. They are strong, and seem to indicate and excite animosity among the people of Indiana.

The editor of the Tribune says that the Louis ville Journal "admits that a great wrong was committed in the first place against the peace and dignity of the country." He has sent his letter to Bell and caused him to Kentucky upon a note

of remonstrance, and to say that he would not be a party to any scheme to give up the country to the South.

The editor of the Tribune says that the Louis

ville Journal "admits that a great wrong was committed in the first place against the peace and

dignity of the country." He has sent his letter to

Bell and caused him to Kentucky upon a note

of remonstrance, and to say that he would

not be a party to any scheme to give up the

country to the South.

The editor of the Tribune says that the Louis

ville Journal "admits that a great wrong was committed in the first place against the peace and

dignity of the country." He has sent his letter to

Bell and caused him to Kentucky upon a note

of remonstrance, and to say that he would

not be a party to any scheme to give up the

country to the South.

The editor of the Tribune says that the Louis

ville Journal "admits that a great wrong was committed in the first place against the peace and

dignity of the country." He has sent his letter to

Bell and caused him to Kentucky upon a note

of remonstrance, and to say that he would

not be a party to any scheme to give up the

country to the South.

The editor of the Tribune says that the Louis

ville Journal "admits that a great wrong was committed in the first place against the peace and

dignity of the country." He has sent his letter to

Bell and caused him to Kentucky upon a note

of remonstrance, and to say that he would

not be a party to any scheme to give up the

country to the South.

The editor of the Tribune says that the Louis

ville Journal "admits that a great wrong was committed in the first place against the peace and

dignity of the country." He has sent his letter to

Bell and caused him to Kentucky upon a note

of remonstrance, and to say that he would

not be a party to any scheme to give up the

country to the South.

The editor of the Tribune says that the Louis

ville Journal "admits that a great wrong was committed in the first place against the peace and

dignity of the country." He has sent his letter to

Bell and caused him to Kentucky upon a note

of remonstrance, and to say that he would

not be a party to any scheme to give up the

country to the South.

The editor of the Tribune says that the Louis

ville Journal "admits that a great wrong was committed in the first place against the peace and

dignity of the country." He has sent his letter to

Bell and caused him to Kentucky upon a note

of remonstrance, and to say that he would

not be a party to any scheme to give up the

country to the South.

The editor of the Tribune says that the Louis

ville Journal "admits that a great wrong was committed in the first place against the peace and

dignity of the country." He has sent his letter to

Bell and caused him to Kentucky upon a note

of remonstrance, and to say that he would

not be a party to any scheme to give up the

country to the South.

The editor of the Tribune says that the Louis

ville Journal "admits that a great wrong was committed in the first place against the peace and

dignity of the country." He has sent his letter to

Bell and caused him to Kentucky upon a note

of remonstrance, and to say that he would

not be a party to any scheme to give up the

country to the South.

The editor of the Tribune says that the Louis

ville Journal "admits that a great wrong was committed in the first place against the peace and

dignity of the country." He has sent his letter to

Bell and caused him to Kentucky upon a note

of remonstrance, and to say that he would

not be a party to any scheme to give up the

country to the South.

The editor of the Tribune says that the Louis

ville Journal "admits that a great wrong was committed in the first place against the peace and

dignity of the country." He has sent his letter to

Bell and caused him to Kentucky upon a note

of remonstrance, and to say that he would

not be a party to any scheme to give up the

country to the South.

The editor of the Tribune says that the Louis

ville Journal "admits that a great wrong was committed in the first place against the peace and

dignity of the country." He has sent his letter to

Bell and caused him to Kentucky upon a note

of remonstrance, and to say that he would

not be a party to any scheme to give up the

country to the South.

The editor of the Tribune says that the Louis

ville Journal "admits that a great wrong was committed in the first place against the peace and

dignity of the country." He has sent his letter to

Bell and caused him to Kentucky upon a note

of remonstrance, and to say that he would

not be a party to any scheme to give up the

country to the South.

The editor of the Tribune says that the Louis

ville Journal "admits that a great wrong was committed in the first place against the peace and

dignity of the country." He has sent his letter to

Bell and caused him to Kentucky upon a note

of remonstrance, and to say that he would

not be a party to any scheme to give up the

country to the South.

The editor of the Tribune says that the Louis

ville Journal "admits that a great wrong was committed in the first place against the peace and

dignity of the country." He has sent his letter to

Bell and caused him to Kentucky upon a note

of remonstrance, and to say that he would

not be a party to any scheme to give up the

country to the South.

The editor of the Tribune says that the Louis

ville Journal "admits that a great wrong was committed in the first place against the peace and

dignity of the country." He has sent his letter to

Bell and caused him to Kentucky upon a note

of remonstrance, and to say that he would

not be a party to any scheme to give up the

country to the South.

The editor of the Tribune says that the Louis

ville Journal "admits that a great wrong was committed in the first place against the peace and

dignity of the country." He has sent his letter to

Bell and caused him to Kentucky upon a note

of remonstrance, and to say that he would

not be a party to any scheme to give up the

country to the South.

The editor of the Tribune says that the Louis

ville Journal "admits that a great wrong was committed in the first place against the peace and

dignity of the country." He has sent his letter to

Bell and caused him to Kentucky upon a note

of remonstrance, and to say that he would

not be a party to any scheme to give up the

country to the South.

The editor of the Tribune says that the Louis

ville Journal "admits that a great wrong was committed in the first place against the peace and

dignity of the country." He has sent his letter to

Bell and caused him to Kentucky upon a note

of remonstrance, and to say that he would

not be a party to any scheme to give up the

COPARTNERSHIPS.

Partnership.
THE subscriber has formed a partnership, under the name of PENTON & GLORE, with one of our best and most experienced men in the business, and we have taken the large fire-proof House No. 26, was recently erected by us, and will be used exclusively to the business of selling and manufacturing. We have many friends who may feel disposed to extract their business from us, and we hope to make a good profit by the purchase of all articles in our line. Liberal cash advance made to all partners.

PENTON & GLORE,
Commission Merchants

AND DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF FEED AND PRODUCE.

No. 26 Fourth street, between Main and the river,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

1000 bushels, grain, and all kinds of feed and commodities selected on liberal cash advance made to all.

Dissolution of Partnership.

THE subscriber has dissolved the partnership of

John C. Armstrong, S. H. Brattin, and L. H. Bradley on the 1st day of October, 1855.

Louisville, Sept. 30, 1855.

Partnership Notice.

HAVING this day dissolved the partnership of W. G. Gray, and J. W. Gray, of

the Banking and Discounting business

concerned in the name of BROWN & GRAY.

THOMAS BROWN,

Exchange and Banking Office,

No. 100 Fourth street, between Main and the river,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

Will sell in lots of Exchange, Wheat, Corn, general Banking, Gold, and Silver, and transact a general Banking business.

Partnership.

THE subscriber has dissolved the partnership of

John C. Armstrong, and F. T. Penton, Hunt,

and Co.,

Ben J. Adams, Louisville, Wm. W. Watkins,

Wilson's Hunt, Fayette Co., Ky.,

Leavenworth, Sept. 1, 1855.

Dissolution.

THE subscriber has dissolved his business under the style

of W. G. Gray, and J. W. Gray, of

the Banking and Discounting business

concerned in the name of BROWN & GRAY.

THOMAS BROWN,

Exchange and Banking Office,

No. 100 Fourth street, between Main and the river,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

Will sell in lots of Exchange, Wheat, Corn, general Banking, Gold, and Silver, and transact a general Banking business.

Partnership.

THE subscriber has dissolved the partnership of

John C. Armstrong, and F. T. Penton, Hunt,

and Co.,

Ben J. Adams, Louisville, Wm. W. Watkins,

Wilson's Hunt, Fayette Co., Ky.,

Leavenworth, Sept. 1, 1855.

Dissolution.

THE subscriber has dissolved his business under the style

of W. G. Gray, and J. W. Gray, of

the Banking and Discounting business

concerned in the name of BROWN & GRAY.

THOMAS BROWN,

Exchange and Banking Office,

No. 100 Fourth street, between Main and the river,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

Will sell in lots of Exchange, Wheat, Corn, general Banking, Gold, and Silver, and transact a general Banking business.

Partnership.

THE subscriber has dissolved the partnership of

John C. Armstrong, and F. T. Penton, Hunt,

and Co.,

Ben J. Adams, Louisville, Wm. W. Watkins,

Wilson's Hunt, Fayette Co., Ky.,

Leavenworth, Sept. 1, 1855.

Dissolution.

THE subscriber has dissolved his business under the style

of W. G. Gray, and J. W. Gray, of

the Banking and Discounting business

concerned in the name of BROWN & GRAY.

THOMAS BROWN,

Exchange and Banking Office,

No. 100 Fourth street, between Main and the river,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

Will sell in lots of Exchange, Wheat, Corn, general Banking, Gold, and Silver, and transact a general Banking business.

Partnership.

THE subscriber has dissolved the partnership of

John C. Armstrong, and F. T. Penton, Hunt,

and Co.,

Ben J. Adams, Louisville, Wm. W. Watkins,

Wilson's Hunt, Fayette Co., Ky.,

Leavenworth, Sept. 1, 1855.

Dissolution.

THE subscriber has dissolved his business under the style

of W. G. Gray, and J. W. Gray, of

the Banking and Discounting business

concerned in the name of BROWN & GRAY.

THOMAS BROWN,

Exchange and Banking Office,

No. 100 Fourth street, between Main and the river,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

Will sell in lots of Exchange, Wheat, Corn, general Banking, Gold, and Silver, and transact a general Banking business.

Partnership.

THE subscriber has dissolved the partnership of

John C. Armstrong, and F. T. Penton, Hunt,

and Co.,

Ben J. Adams, Louisville, Wm. W. Watkins,

Wilson's Hunt, Fayette Co., Ky.,

Leavenworth, Sept. 1, 1855.

Dissolution.

THE subscriber has dissolved his business under the style

of W. G. Gray, and J. W. Gray, of

the Banking and Discounting business

concerned in the name of BROWN & GRAY.

THOMAS BROWN,

Exchange and Banking Office,

No. 100 Fourth street, between Main and the river,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

Will sell in lots of Exchange, Wheat, Corn, general Banking, Gold, and Silver, and transact a general Banking business.

Partnership.

THE subscriber has dissolved the partnership of

John C. Armstrong, and F. T. Penton, Hunt,

and Co.,

Ben J. Adams, Louisville, Wm. W. Watkins,

Wilson's Hunt, Fayette Co., Ky.,

Leavenworth, Sept. 1, 1855.

Dissolution.

THE subscriber has dissolved his business under the style

of W. G. Gray, and J. W. Gray, of

the Banking and Discounting business

concerned in the name of BROWN & GRAY.

THOMAS BROWN,

Exchange and Banking Office,

No. 100 Fourth street, between Main and the river,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

Will sell in lots of Exchange, Wheat, Corn, general Banking, Gold, and Silver, and transact a general Banking business.

Partnership.

THE subscriber has dissolved the partnership of

John C. Armstrong, and F. T. Penton, Hunt,

and Co.,

Ben J. Adams, Louisville, Wm. W. Watkins,

Wilson's Hunt, Fayette Co., Ky.,

Leavenworth, Sept. 1, 1855.

Dissolution.

THE subscriber has dissolved his business under the style

of W. G. Gray, and J. W. Gray, of

the Banking and Discounting business

concerned in the name of BROWN & GRAY.

THOMAS BROWN,

Exchange and Banking Office,

No. 100 Fourth street, between Main and the river,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

Will sell in lots of Exchange, Wheat, Corn, general Banking, Gold, and Silver, and transact a general Banking business.

Partnership.

THE subscriber has dissolved the partnership of

John C. Armstrong, and F. T. Penton, Hunt,

and Co.,

Ben J. Adams, Louisville, Wm. W. Watkins,

Wilson's Hunt, Fayette Co., Ky.,

Leavenworth, Sept. 1, 1855.

Dissolution.

THE subscriber has dissolved his business under the style

of W. G. Gray, and J. W. Gray, of

the Banking and Discounting business

concerned in the name of BROWN & GRAY.

THOMAS BROWN,

Exchange and Banking Office,

No. 100 Fourth street, between Main and the river,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

Will sell in lots of Exchange, Wheat, Corn, general Banking, Gold, and Silver, and transact a general Banking business.

Partnership.

THE subscriber has dissolved the partnership of

John C. Armstrong, and F. T. Penton, Hunt,

and Co.,

Ben J. Adams, Louisville, Wm. W. Watkins,

Wilson's Hunt, Fayette Co., Ky.,

Leavenworth, Sept. 1, 1855.

Dissolution.

THE subscriber has dissolved his business under the style

of W. G. Gray, and J. W. Gray, of

the Banking and Discounting business

concerned in the name of BROWN & GRAY.

THOMAS BROWN,

Exchange and Banking Office,

No. 100 Fourth street, between Main and the river,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

Will sell in lots of Exchange, Wheat, Corn, general Banking, Gold, and Silver, and transact a general Banking business.

Partnership.

THE subscriber has dissolved the partnership of

John C. Armstrong, and F. T. Penton, Hunt,

and Co.,

Ben J. Adams, Louisville, Wm. W. Watkins,

Wilson's Hunt, Fayette Co., Ky.,

Leavenworth, Sept. 1, 1855.